DRIVING FOR THE COAST

In New Offensive Assumed By Germans, Experts See a Renewal of Attempt to Reach English Channel.

Attack in Champagne District Is Reported to Have Been Repulsed.

(Associated Press Cable)

London, May 20.—German troops took the offensive along the Yser Canal between Steenstraete and Het Sas last night, the War Office announced today.

An attempt to cross the canal failed. The movement is a revival of German efforts to reach the English Channel.

The Germans have attacked in the Champagne region, the War Office announcement says, and asphyxiating gas was used, but the assault was repulsed.

Dunkirk was bombarded by German aeroplanes last night. One woman was killed and 27 persons wounded.

The town of Bemgeus, near Dunkirk, was also bombarded. Five persons were killed and eleven wounded.

In retaliation for these attacks, French and Belgian aeroplanes dropped bombs on German camps.

Three German aero-seaplanes raided the east English coast last night, according to British official statement today. One of the aircraft was brought down off the Belgian coast. The seaplanes dropped 37 bombs, killing one soldier and two civilians.

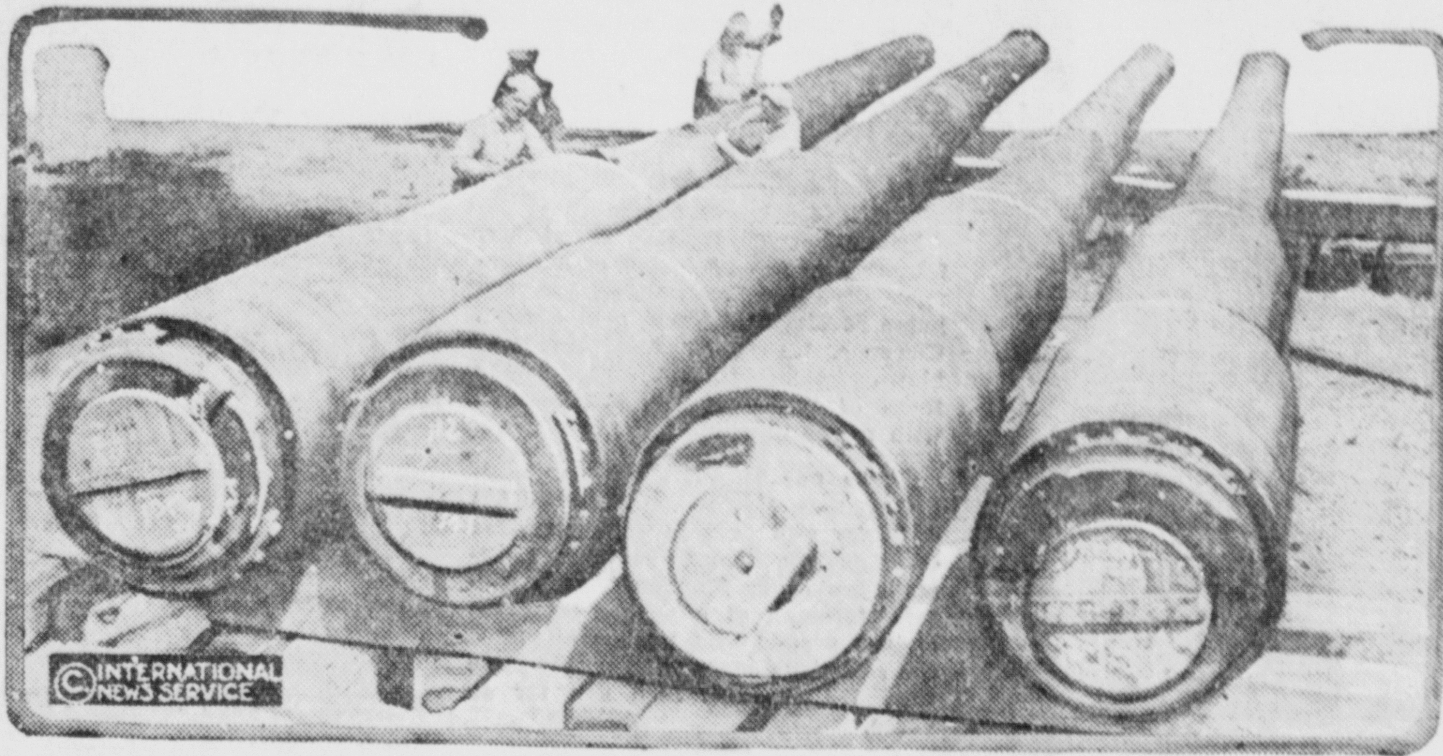

MARINES MOBILIZED

Admiral Caperton Requests Further Reinforcements Be Sent to Santo.

(Associated Press Cable)

San Domingo, Dominican Republic, May 20.—Enrique Henriquez, former Minister of Foreign Affairs, has gone to the United States, at the request of various political parties, to ask that American armed forces be withdrawn from the Republic.

TWELVE-INCH GUNS FOR THE U. S. S. MICHIGAN

These big 12-inch guns are to be placed in position aboard the U. S. S. Michigan, the battleship which is one of a number undergoing repairs and refitting at the League Island navy yard, Philadelphia. The activities at that yard are reminders of war-time preparations, for the work is being rushed with all dispatch.

Although quiet prevails in the capital, seven of the provinces have repudiated the authority of Congress and numerous bodies of malcontents under command of General Desiderio, are in the mountains near the city.

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Washington, May 20.—Marines were mobilized at Norfolk and Boston today, preparatory to sailing for San Domingo to strengthen Rear Admiral Caperton's forces in policing that republic, where political disturbances have occurred recently.

The movement of the marines is in response to a cable to the Navy Department from Admiral Caperton requesting further reinforcements.

He gave no details of the developments which prompted his action.

SWITZERLAND WILL RESIST

Mountain Country of Europe Proposes to Maintain Neutrality.

(Associated Press Cable)

Paris, May 20.—Switzerland is prepared to throw all her forces against the belligerents who attempt to cross Swiss territory, according to a statement of President Camille De Coppet, issued today.

Mobilization of the Swiss army and orders for its immediate action will follow any violation of neutral territory of Switzerland, the President states.

The Poentruy salient of Switzerland juts into France. If the Germans could cross this salient they could strike at the whole French line of communication to Verdun, it is stated.

PASSED IT

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Washington, May 20.—The Administration shipping bill, designed to upbuild the merchant marine and strengthen the Navy, passed the House today by a vote of 211 against 161, virtually in the form it was introduced.

Moss, of West Virginia, and Mooncy of Ohio, voted for the bill.

NEBRASKA SENT TO VERA CRUZ

Big "Sea Battler" Will Relieve the Kentucky—Change to Maintain Condition of Reserves.

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Washington, May 20.—The battleship Nebraska, in reserve in the Boston navy yard, was today ordered to Vera Cruz to relieve the Kentucky.

The change is to be made to keep the reserve battleship in efficient condition by actual service, the navy department announced.

Military patrols are to protect the United States border from the Gulf of Mexico to the Pacific Ocean, it became known today.

Motor trains will be established to supply the line of patrol where they are not reached by railways.

Redeposition of American troops below the border has not been completed but is under way.

to be planning to present his name to the Republican National Convention as a compromise candidate for president.

They believe if there is a prolonged deadlock in the balloting for a choice he may have a chance to win.

His supporters assert that he would be acceptable to Colonel Roosevelt.

M. E. CHURCH UNION NEAR

North and South Churches May Join in Two Years Instead of Four.

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Saratoga Springs, N. Y., May 20.

Physical union of the Methodist Episcopal Churches of the North and South may be effected in 1918, or two years sooner than had been expected, if a resolution introduced at the General Conference today is adopted.

It was referred to the Judiciary Committee for a decision on its legality.

The proposal was that when this general conference concludes, probably next week, it adjourn not for four years, as has been the custom, but to meet at the call of the Board of Bishops.

Such action would permit a session in 1918, when the conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church South is to meet to take action on a plan for unification to be agreed upon by representatives of the two branches of the church within the next two years.

NEW VENIRE IS ISSUED

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Waukegan, Ill., May 20.—A new venire of 100 men was called today in the murder trial of W. H. Orpet.

Five days have been spent in examination of 273 prospective jurors and only three have been tentatively accepted.

THE FINAL CURTAIN DESCENDS

Geo. B. Cox, Political Leader and Theatrical Manager, Dies in Cincinnati.

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Cincinnati, O., May 20.—George B. Cox, political and theatrical magnate, died at his home here early this morning.

Mr. Cox was stricken with paralysis February 29, from which he never recovered; although death is said to have been from pneumonia, which developed in the last few days.

George Barnsdale Cox was one of the most widely known professional politicians in Ohio, a baseball magnate, banker and part owner of one of the largest theatrical syndicates in the country. Born in Cincinnati April 29, 1863, he began his career as a newsboy, and later became a saloon-keeper at "Dead Man's Corner," as the locality at Carlisle and Central avenues, Cincinnati, was known because of the numerous murders in that neighborhood. Cincinnati was "wide open" in those days and unbridled saloons and gambling flourished. Cox, however, kept his place orderly and established a reputation for physical courage that he maintained throughout his career.

He immediately became a leader in local politics and soon spread his influence until he virtually controlled the Republican machine in Hamilton county, obtained a powerful hold on state politics and wielded an influence in national campaigns.

In 1884, during the Blaine-Cleveland campaign, Cox's circle of influence widened. At that time the Republicans declared for protective tariff and the idea appealed to Cincinnati as a rising manufacturing city. Cox was awake to the possibilities, formed the famous "Blaine club," and asked to be allowed to direct the congressional campaign. In this political fight he won, Hamilton county giving Blaine a substantial plurality.

When Cox announced his retirement from politics in 1909, Hermann and Hynicka continued the organization which was considered intact until it was beaten in the mayoralty race in Cincinnati a little more than three years later.

Cox as a young man was an enthusiastic base ball fan.

Mr. Cox was president of the World Film Corporation, one of the largest picture producing and distributing concerns; chairman of the board of directors of the Shubert theatrical interests, vice president of the Marcus Loew amusement enterprises, and was interested in the Keith vaudeville circuits. He was president of the Cincinnati Trust Company and held stock in various realty companies which have constructed theaters in New York City.

REAL WAR BABY IS CLAIM URGED

corpus to obtain the child. An immediate hearing was ordered.

Mrs. Matters is on trial in the state court on a charge of conspiracy to foist a spurious heir to the estate of her late husband, Fred Matters, upon the probate court.

Nuns and nurses from the Misericordia Hospital at Ottawa, Canada, have testified that the child, known as Irene Matters, was born to Margaret Ryan, who at the hospital was known as "Jesse Bryan."

The girl asserts the baby is a war baby and its father is now with Canadian troops in France.

SOCIALISTS INDICTED

Grand Jury Investigating the Braddock Riots in Steel Plants Returns "True Bills" Against Leaders.

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Pittsburg, Pa., May 20.—Fred W. Merrick, former Socialist editor, was today charged by the grand jury investigating the Braddock riot with being the real leader of the mob which on May 2, attacked the Edgar Thomson Works of the Carnegie Steel Company and was driven off with three dead and twenty wounded.

The jury brought in two indictments, naming 57 persons as having been connected with the riot.

These include the officers of the American Industrial Union, the organization of Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company strikers from whose meetings, after an address by Merrick, it is alleged the mob started.

The first shots, the jury declared, were fired from the ranks of the mob.

The defendants, many of whom have been in jail since the battle, will be brought to trial as soon as possible after the coroner's inquest next week.

BOUND TO DIE

(By American Press)

Cincinnati, May 20.—Clinging to a rope, George Menges, a farmer living two miles south of Harrison, struggled in vain to save the life of his sister-in-law, Mrs. Frank Betscher, fifty-three, who had thrown herself into a cistern. Mrs. Betscher and her husband were living temporarily with Mr. and Mrs. Menges. Mrs. Betscher was suffering from extreme nervousness. At midnight she arose and left the house. Menges soon heard her struggling in the cistern. He threw a plank across the opening and attached a rope to the board. Then he lowered himself into the cistern. In the darkness he caught hold of the woman's shoulder, but she fought him off. Menges was rescued in an exhausted condition. The body of Mrs. Betscher was recovered.

100 TRUSTIES GO TO FARM

Columbus, O., May 20.—Warden P. O. Thomas of the Ohio penitentiary has announced preparations to send 100 more trustees to work at the prison farm and other state institutions outside prison walls. The state already leads with 400 trustees. Mr. Thomas declares, that number being greatly in excess of the number of honor prisoners of any other state prison in the country.

Ohio honor prisoners by their work save the state about $750 a day or approximately $225,000 annually, according to Warden Thomas. Records show, Mr. Thomas states, that but one of every 30 trustees run away.

PLANS FOR STATE SPELLING CONTESTS

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Columbus, O., May 20.—Plans of those in charge of this year's state spelling contest have been formulated with a view to eliminating the physical endurance element as much as possible. Last year's contest lasted until midnight and then it was necessary to submit a number of words in writing to decide the victor.

Accordingly this year 100 words will be pronounced to the contestants, 100 will be printed phonetically, to be written and correctly spelled and 100 will be spelled in part correctly and in part incorrectly, to be written and corrected. It has been announced by Francis B. Pearson, state superintendent of schools.

This year's contest will be held in Columbus on June 2. Eighty contestants are expected to take part.

STEPPING SOME

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Marysville, O., May 20.—A lamb with five legs and six feet is attracting much attention at the farm near here of Thomas Price. Save for the extra pedal extremities the lamb is normal in every respect. The extra leg is at the right fore shoulder and on this extra limb are two feet, the leg dividing at the knee.

CELEBRATES DEATH

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Findlay, O., May 20.—Celebrating the anniversary of one's own death is something a trifle new, but nevertheless that is what the Rev. R. B. Mundy, of a local church did a few days ago. It was at the battle of Cloyd's Mountain during the Civil war that he, with a number of others, was carried from the battlefield as dead. Twelve hours later another soldier passing his body, noticed his breast expand. Upon examination he was found to be alive. He later recovered at a hospital.

LEATHER HIGH

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Toledo, O., May 20.—Because of the rapid advance in the cost of leather, shoe prices to retailers of this city have advanced twenty per cent since January 1, local department store buyers say.

"The shoe situation will be serious this fall," one buyer declared. "Sixty per cent of the upper leather in shoes comes from Russia, India and Japan. England gets most of this now. Even baby shoes have advanced ten to fifty cents a pair."

WANTS RECRUITS

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Defiance, O., May 20.—Anticipating a call for service along the Mexican border, Captain A. B. De Kay, of Company G., Ohio National Guard, has inserted an advertisement in local newspapers for recruits.

A WAY OUT

(By American Press)

Washington, May 20.—The German government proposes a solution to the Von Igel case. Wolf E. Von Igel, former secretary to Captain Von Papen, the recalled German military attaché, was arrested in New York in connection with a plot to blow up the Welland canal, and his papers were seized by federal agents and kept despite vigorous protest by Count Von Bernstorff. Germany contended that Von Igel, as a diplomatic officer, was immune from arrest and his papers immune from seizure. The German proposal to settle this acute controversy has now been suggested by the German ambassador. It is for legal proceedings against Von Igel to be dropped and his papers returned, on the understanding that he be recalled and punished in Germany, if the evidence shows that he was guilty of an offense. How the state department will act on this proposal is not known.

ADJUST MATTERS

(By American Press)

Jackson, O., May 20.—Miners and operators of Jackson, Vinton and Gallia counties adjourned their joint convention, which has been in session at Wellston for a week. The purpose for which the convention was called was to fix a scale of day wages for the ensuing two years and to adjust local differences. All questions before the convention were adjusted in a manner satisfactory to both sides.

MOOSERS TO OPEN

(By American Press)

Chicago, May 20.—Oscar King Davis, secretary of the Progressive national committee, came from New York and opened headquarters for the Bull Moose in the Auditorium hotel. Mr. Davis, while believing the Republicans must reckon with Theodore Roosevelt in the nomination of a candidate for president, was not willing to say that the colonel will carry off the plum.

Columbus, May 20.—Bids on thirty-five contracts, aggregating $1,239,769, for the improvement of ninety-two miles of road in twenty-five counties, were opened by State Highway Commissioner Cowen. Awards will be made in a few days to the lowest bidders.

Residence Burns.

East Liverpool, O., May 20.—A fire, followed by the explosion of a dynamite cap, completely destroyed the home of William Taylor, near Lisbon. Clarence, his two-year-old son, was blown fifteen feet into the yard by the force of the explosion, but escaped with minor injuries.

Asks For $15,000 Damages.

Columbus, May 20.—Suit for $15,000 damages was filed in common pleas court against John H. Parsons, investment broker, by Stephen Eugene Walters, foreman of a paving company, on the ground that he has alienated the affections of his wife. At the same time Walters also filed suit for divorce.

Against Conservancy Plans.

Dayton, May 20.—When the Miami valley conservancy court meets here June 19, it will have at least seven different complaints to hear against the official flood plan, this number having been filed with Clerk Schaefer of the conservancy court by residents of anti-conservancy counties.

Seniors May Not Appear.

Sunbury, O., May 20.—High school commencement preparations went along all serene until Richard Paul, a member of the senior class, was told he would not be graduated because he had failed in a certain study. Thereupon the other seniors signed a petition agreeing not to appear at any of the commencement exercises.

Wins Breach of Promise Suit.

Mt. Vernon, O., May 20.—Ida Shumaker, pretty twenty-three-year-old girl of Rushville, Fairfield county, won a verdict of $2,750 against Raymond Brown of Centerburg for alleged breach of promise. Brown did not contest the case. Miss Shumaker claimed Brown courted her for three years and promised to marry her last October. Later he married another girl, she charged.

Superintendent of Xenia Home.

Columbus, May 20.—Former Probate Judge J. S. Kimbrough of Wilmington, Republican and civil war veteran, was elected superintendent of the Ohio Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphans' home at Xenia, at a meeting of the trustees in the senate chamber at the statehouse. He succeeds J. P. Elton of Highland county, Democrat. Mrs. Kimbrough was appointed matron. The appointments are effective June 15.

Candidate For Senator.

Mansfield, O., May 20.—E. E. Cassell of Butler, this county, a farmer and dairyman, is the latest entrant for the United States senatorial nomination on the Republican ticket. His declaration, signed by five of his neighbors, has been filed with the secretary of state at Columbus. He says he is opposed to the "serum trust." Farmers, he declares, lost millions through the "foot and mouth disease frameup."

MAY DECLARE

(By American Press)

Chicago, May 20.—Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, president of the National American Woman's Suffrage association, has received assurances, it is said, that the Republican national platform will contain a full suffrage plank. Women who have been busy arranging for the parade of 40,000 women on June 7, the opening day of the Republican convention, were startled by the news. Many believed that the parade would be spoiled, but the leaders assured them that plans for the demonstration would go on just the same, to guard against any slip in the arrangements Mrs. Catt may have made. According to the report, Mrs. Catt is declaring that old guard Republicans had agreed to insert an equal suffrage plank in the platform.

Col. Roosevelt's Speech
At Detroit Friday afternoon Colonel Roosevelt made one of his "corking" speeches in favor of national preparedness. The arraignment of the present national administration on account of its peace policy was bitter and sarcastic—thoroughly Roosevelt all the way through. It is needless to assert that which has been apparent to the observing American public for sometime—if the sage of Oyster Bay has his way the presidential campaign this year will be fought out and lost or won, depending on the will of the voters, upon the single issue of preparedness to the extent of being ready for any eventuality or as the distinguished ex-president expresses it, ready to demand that other nations respect our rights and be prepared to "back up" our demands. There may be other issues in the national campaign this fall, but if Colonel Roosevelt can have his wishes observed, they will not be "paramount." After all isn't he about right? Every other national question which the coming campaign will present must fade into significance and be overshadowed by the one big pressing problem. President Wilson must and will succeed or fail in the election solely on his foreign policy. There will be the opposition of some predatory interests who have felt the inconvenience of the new currency law, the opposition of some of the selfish advocates of intervention in Mexico, but they will, taken collectively, command only a negligible part of the total vote. Prosperity has come and the unemployed are at work. The rumble of discontent with the policy of peace is being encouraged and upon his record of achievement in that regard the man who it is conceded will be the democratic nominee must win or lose the fight. Colonel Roosevelt, it now seems, is giving evidence of this political sagacity in carrying the fight to the administration and getting "off in front" in the advocacy of what seems now to be the only possible issue.

McAdoo's Treasury Report
The revised estimates as to the financial condition of the federal government, submitted by Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo, showing that it will be necessary to raise seventy-five million dollars a year less in revenue, to execute the preparedness program, than even the most conservative advocates believed would be necessary, came as a pleasant surprise to congressmen. The showing which Secretary McAdoo submits should, and doubtless will, go far to removing the objections which have halted the progress of the preparedness plan through the maze of necessary legislative enactment. Very substantial increases in the receipts from the income tax laws and a determination of the tax collecting officials to still further increase the flow of revenues from that source is the explanation for the surprisingly good showing made. A determined and strictly followed plan of compelling those who can best afford to do so—the possessors of large incomes—to bear the major portion of the cost of preparedness should do much to soften the violent opposition to the program on account of its tremendous cost and it should also do much to hold the demands within the limits of need.

Obeys the Laws
Almost every day brings its added bit of evidence that Germany is anxious to maintain friendly relations with the United States and will meet every demand that is not impossible. At least the war power of the Kaiser has come to a realization that the activities of plotters in this country in violation of our laws and seriously affecting our position of strict neutrality has operated to place the German cause in an unfavorable light and create a feeling of resentment and hostility among the American people. The agents and sympathizers of no other nation have so utterly disregarded and set at defiance the laws of the United States as have those of Germany and the cause of the German people has, in consequence, suffered a loss in public esteem. The activities of those hot headed agents have done much to do away with the belief in the honesty of the German people which this nation has always held. It is with deep gratification that the people of the United States learn that, through Ambassador Von Bernstorff, the Kaiser has notified all German agents and sympathizers in this country to obey, in letter and in spirit, the laws of the United States and to see to it that they do nothing which will affect the position of neutrality which this nation has maintained. Following so soon after the granting of our demands for modification in the method of submarine warfare the deep significance of the announcement just made should not be underestimated.

Poetry For Today

WANTED.
God give us men! A time like this demands
Strong minds, great hearts, true faith and ready hands:
Men whom the love of office cannot kill;
Men whom the spoils of office cannot buy;
Men who possess opinions and a will;
Men who have honor; men who will not lie;
Men who can stand before a demagogue
And damn his treacherous flatteries without winking!
Tall men, sun-crowned, who live above the fog
in public duty, and in private thinking—
For while the rabble with their thumb-worn creeds,
Their large professions and their little deeds,
Mingle in selfish strife, to Freedom weeps,
Wrong rules the land, and waiting justice sleeps!

MONEY AND THE HOME.

How One Family Solved the Difficult Financial Problem.
In the American Magazine a contributor tells how he and his wife have solved the problem of domestic expenses.
"When my wife and I were first married," he says, "we experienced some difficulty in the handling of my salary. My wife would often want little things and would hesitate to ask me for the money, fearing that I would think them silly. Again, she would need clothes occasionally and would not wish to ask for them, believing that either I could not afford them or would think her extravagant. Often I would see things that I desired, but many times would not buy them because I could not afford to spend a like amount on her.
"So we devised a method of dividing the money. Upon receiving my salary twice a month I pay whatever household bills that are on hand, such as rent, coal, groceries, light, etc. The balance I divide, giving half to my wife and retaining the other half myself. Then we each pay half the daily incidental expenses of the house, being very exact, even to the purchase of a yeast cake. Personal expenses, such as clothes, car fares, etc., we each pay from our own halves. If we go out for a day's pleasure I pay the bills, and upon our return I figure what I have spent, and my wife pays me her half. Thus each of us has half my salary, each pays half of the household expenses, and each has half of the balance for his own use."

On Washington's Errand and His Own

By ETHEL HOLMES

One visiting the town of Dobbs Ferry, on the east bank of the Hudson and some twenty miles from New York, will find himself in a place that has been called by its present name for so long that no one, except perhaps some of the present residents, knows the date. Doubtless Mr. Dobbs ran a ferry there to some point across the Hudson. He has passed away long ago, but his name remains.
There is another name connected with Dobbs Ferry of far more importance—that is, George Washington. One mounting the declivity leading up from the railway station and following the road leading southward will pass a frame house before which runs a wall to which is attached a tablet stating that it was the headquarters of General Washington during the Revolutionary war.
One day a country lad named Enoch Weatherby, who was a member of the Revolutionary army and had not seen his best girl in New York city for some time, got leave to go there for the purpose of meeting her. Being a patriotic youth, he went to General Washington and, telling him what he was about to do, asked the general if he could be of any service to him in bringing information of the British army, which was at that time in possession of the city.
The general told Enoch that he very much desired to know how many troops were there, how many cannon and whether any preparations were being made for a movement. Enoch promised to gain what information he could.
That night the youngster put a load of farm produce in his boat on the river and the next morning started with the outgoing tide for New York. On reaching Spuyten Duyvil creek he turned into it and when he arrived at Kingsbridge, leaving his boat under the bridge, proceeded on foot to the city, some nine or ten miles away. There was a British soldier at the bridge, but Enoch, being loaded with produce, was suffered to pass, and whenever he was stopped on the way a few eggs or a pound of butter was sufficient to pass him.
New York was then all at the southern end of the island, and Enoch's girl, Becky Bleeker, lived at the lower end of Greenwich street, near where it joins the Battery. He found Becky, and she was delighted to see him, for there was little communication between the American troops in the region beyond Spuyten Duyvil creek and the city. Enoch while in New York was continually going about, counting the guns he saw and estimating the number of the soldiers.
One day he made bold to sketch a redoubt in the region that is now Central park and was observed doing so by a sentry. The soldier called the corporal of the guard and by him sent a message to the commanding officer that a man had been seen sketching the works. By this time Enoch had left, and a couple of men were sent to bring him back. Enoch soon discovered that he was being pursued, and, though the men most of the time kept him in sight, he succeeded in reaching Becky Bleeker's home without being arrested.
Becky put him into the great hall clock, he handing her the memoranda he had accumulated, giving her a kiss at the same time, and she had no sooner taken them than there was a loud rap at the door. She opened it, and two redecoats entered, inquiring for the young fellow who had just come in. Becky declared that they must be mistaken, but the soldiers, having seen him close the door behind him, searched the house. Not thinking to look in the clock, they did not find him. But one man stationed himself at the front of the house, the other at the rear, and Enoch was pinned in.
After they had gone outside Becky returned to Enoch, and he bemoaned the fact that he would not be permitted to take his notes to General Washington. Becky was in terror lest the information he proposed to take away should be captured on him and cause his conviction as a spy. Something must be done before any one came from General Howe and while there were only green soldiers on guard.
Becky resolved to walk out with Enoch's notes and drawings in face of the sentinel at the front door. She did so, and the man essayed to stop her, but she gave him a scornful look and proceeded. She had scarcely got out of sight before a member of the staff came with a sergeant and eight men and gave orders that no one should be permitted to leave the house. Enoch had heard the door shut after Becky and thought it best to come out of hiding. But, since there was nothing found to indicate that he was a spy, after being held for some time he was suffered to go his way.
Meanwhile Becky, presuming that her lover would not be permitted to go back to General Washington, made her way to Kingsbridge, where she found Enoch's boat and pulled herself up to Dobbs Ferry. Mounting the hill to the house where Washington was quartered, she told him the story of Enoch's and her adventures and handed him the memoranda Enoch had collected.
"When Enoch Weatherby returns, if he does," said the general, "come together to see me."
Enoch returned sooner than was expected, and when the lovers called on the general he directed his chaplain to marry them and bestowed upon them a handsome wedding present.

Days You'll Never Forget

THE NIGHT YOU TRIED TO HIDE YOUR SWIMMING TIGHTS IN THE MULE'S STALL

WIND IMPRISONS WOMAN.

Locked In Closet and Near Collapse When Rescued.
Bridgeville, Del.—Imprisoned in a closet by the wind slamming a door fast, Mrs. Mollie Cordery, who lives near Bridgeville, had a narrow escape from death and when discovered was nearly overcome by the shock.
Mrs. Cordery was cleaning the attic, and while she was looking in an old closet a gust of wind slammed the door and locked it from the outside. There was no one but herself in the house, and it was nearly an hour before Mrs. Cordery's screams happened to be heard by a gang of men who were repairing the road. With all the doors locked downstairs, Harley Rickards climbed to the second floor and got through by a window. When Mrs. Cordery was found she was in a pitiable state. She is still seriously ill from the shock.

MONKEYS SCARE CO-EDS.

Human Skeleton Placed Near Girls' Dormitory Also Causes Terror.
Alliance, O.—Five stuffed monkeys taken by students from the museum of Mount Union college and placed at strategic points near the entrance of Elliott hall, the girls' dormitory, frightened the co-eds when they left the dormitory.
Scarcely had they recovered from their terror when they saw a human skeleton dangling from a tree near by. It, too, had been taken from the museum.
The library also was entered, and books and catalogues were disarranged. As a result an investigation is being made.
His Remarks.
"Mr. Jaggs never opened his mouth while his wife was entertaining her guests the other night."
"Oh, yes, he did—several times!"
"What did he say?"
"Nothing. He yawned."—Baltimore American.

W.C.H. SENIORS
STAGE CLEVER
CLASS PLAY

"Commencement Day" Packed
H. S. Auditorium Friday Night
With Crowd Which Applauds
the Splendid Work of Students.

Many "Stars" Shine Forth Brightly Delighting Spectators and With Credit to Themselves and Their Instructors.

A pretty and entertaining prelude to the High School Commencement of 1916 to be held the night of the twenty-fifth, was the class play,
"Commencement Days" presented by the Seniors, Friday night to an audience which taxed the seating capacity of the house to its utmost.

The play was singularly apropos
in its portrayal of the happy, busy days of a college commencement
with typical college boys and girls and all the stolen joys of midnight serenades, and fudge, together with the bigger interests of basket ball and commencement itself. A stirring plot centers around the senior class president, Kate Wells, who endangers her own reputation to save her best friend and the complications arising from the mystery of an unknown disinherited brother, whom she confuses with her fiancé, "Billy."

Katharine Forman and Robert Craig divided stellar honors in the roles of "Kate" and "Billy," the former pretty enough to distract even her dashing and attractive suitor, Miss Forman maintained
her very difficult role well and Mr.
Craig, whose former work in high school plays has revealed considerable potential talent, acted the part of the ardent and impulsive lover
splendidly and to the special delight
of the student body in attendance.

The Seniors in the cast manifested their abilities to the intense interest of the audience and were heartily applauded.

Herbert Davenport in make up and handsome, dignified bearing, was fine as Mr. Douglass, editor of the "New York Daily," father of "Billy," "Frank," the ne'er do well, and the loyal sister, "Lorraine."

The parts of Lorraine and Frank were both extremely well taken by Miss Edith Buckley and Donald Moore.

The twins, "Emmy Lou" Dudley
and "Teddy" Dudley and the mystified suitor, "Brick Harding," in love with Emmy Lou, but constantly getting mixed up on which was which,
produced several of the funniest scenes of the play. Emily Palmer and Margaret Teeters played the parts of the twins with much cleverness, Miss Palmer, the coquettish and adoring "Emmy Lou" and Miss Teeters
the Vivacious "Teddy," quite independent of men and their perogatives.

James Cook had one of the hardest roles of the play as "Brick Harding"
and rose to it admirably, his work
calling forth some of the most strenuous applause of the evening.

DELBERT C. HAYS

The ANSCO Dealer in This Town

Prof. Peck, head of the Biological Department, capably acted by Ronald Dick, and "Bugey Merton" a Biological Prod, but for all a very genuine girl, in love with the professor, added delightful bits of fun making to the play. Miss Charlotte Eaker took the role of the Biological Prod very cleverly.

Also contributing to the humor
and entertainment of the play were Margaret Mark, pretty and graceful
as "Nan Dixon," the poet. Phyllis Davis, a typical enthusiastic college girl, "Put," captain of the basket ball team, a born financier and full of ginger each time she appeared;
Elizabeth Monnypenny, the loyal little Freshman, with Ida Harper in the role; and Madonna Larrimer an exceedingly imposing and fine looking "house mother."

Lewis Ramsay filled the role of
"Mr. Busley," detective, smoothly, bringing his man to time with professional skill. Miss Emma Draise made a fetching maid and she was the usual complement of basket ball girls, college men, glee club members and visitors.

Of course, all complications are brought to a happy finale and the curtain falls upon a very pretty scene of graduates linked together with garlands and singing gayly as the lovers steal away.

Miss Amy Conn had the play in charge and is to be congratulated for the smoothness with which it moved off.

The stage settings, which were most effective, and the pretty costumes were under the direction of Miss Clara Thurston.

The splendid music furnished by the high school orchestra between acts lent a professional air to the play.

THE ORDER FOR NEW RECRUITS

Following is the official order to recruit the O. N. G. up to a full peace strength footing, which means that Company M of this city will recruit fifteen additional men and lists of eligibles will be obtained.

Office of Adjutant General of Ohio,
Columbus, O., May 17, 1916.
General Order N. 5.

1st—All Company, Battery and Troop commanders, Ohio National Guard, are directed to immediately recruit their several organizations to a full peace strength footing as provided by tables of organization
based on field service regulations, 1914—Organized Militia 1914.

2nd—Company, Battery and Troop commanders, Ohio National Guard are directed as ex-pediently as possible to secure volunteer lists of desirable men to be used as a basis and nucleus for recruiting to war strength, if the same becomes necessary.

3rd—Regimental and Separate Battalion Commanders, Ohio
National Guard, are directed to take such steps as they may deem practicable to secure the results mentioned and are responsible for the carrying out of these orders.

By command of Governor Willis
BENSON W. HOUGH,
Adj. General.

LAYING ASPHALT
ON HINDE STREET

Work of laying asphalt on Hinde street was started Saturday morning, and will proceed rapidly.

By the middle or end of the coming week it is expected that the street will be thrown open to traffic,
and a few days later Columbus avenue will probably be ready for use.

TEACHERS' EXAMINATION.

The first examination for teachers
of the city schools of Washington C.

FAYETTE MAN
IS BANKRUPT

R. L. LaFollette, of Bloom-burg, Gives Liabilities at $115,- 000 More Than Assets—Has Had Difficulty Before.

According to an Associated Press dispatch Saturday, Robert L. LaFo-lette, contractor, of Bloomburg,
has filed a petition in bankruptcy,
in Columbus, setting up his liabilities at $220,111.82 and his assets
at $105,000.

Several years ago LaFollette quit
the farm and started into contract work, chiefly as a builder of school buildings and business blocks and residences.

As builder of the Odd Fellows block in Milledgeville he ran into financial trouble, and later in erecting the school building at Morrow
he experienced a similar difficulty.

Since the above ventures he has tried other contracts of a larger nature, it is understood, with the result that his financial difficulties increased until the action in bankruptcy came Saturday as a finale.

ANOTHER $5000 IS ALLOWED THIS CITY

Washington dispatches in the Saturday morning papers state that included in the appropriations reported to the House by the Appropriations Committee, Friday, was the sum of $5,000 toward the Washington Postoffice building.

It is not stated what the amount is for, but it is supposed that like the $5,000 previously set aside will go to the architect for his work.

Indications are that no actual building work will be taken up before next year, if then.

The same appropriation included
$1500 for the Wilmington postoffice building; $20,000 to finish the federal building in Logan, and $562,- 200 for the Soldiers' Home at Dayton.

ALTON PORTER
AGAIN FACING
COURT CHARGE

Affidavits were filed by Constable
J. A. Smith before Justice of the Peace, W. H. Sylvester, Saturday afternoon, charging Alton Porter and Etta Porter, his wife, with perjury.

The charges grow out of the testimony of Porter and his wife before Mayor Oster, Friday, when Daurel
Cheek was tried upon bootlegging charges filed by Porter, and given his freedom.

Porter claims the charges are another attempt to "get even" with him for giving up information concerning alleged bootleggers.

FURTHER PLANS
FOR BIG 4TH

At a meeting of the committees appointed to work out plans for the Fourth of July celebration in this city, Friday night, some definite plans were decided upon.

Two bands are to be obtained for the day and at night, and both of these bands will be up town in the forenoon and also in the evening.

Virtually the entire morning program will be given in the business districts of the city, except the base ball game.

In the afternoon the scene will shift to the fair grounds where all will be in readiness to receive the big crowds, and where racing of various kinds, together with other attractions, will be indulged. Band music throughout the afternoon.

In the evening the scene of activities again will shift back to the main part of town, where both bands will furnish music and where one of the greatest pyrotechnic displays ever given in the city will be carried out under expert management. The plans call for an abundance of high class fireworks.

MISS IRIS COIL
IS BEST SPELLER

The test to determine who shall defend Fayette county's claims in the big state wide "spellin' bee" to be held in Columbus June 2, resulted today in the honors being awarded to Miss Iris Coil of Milledgeville District No. 3, Superintended by F. M. Allen.

Little Miss Coil, who is only 14
years old, made a perfect score,
spelling every one of the 300 words
without a single miss.

The winner of Fayette county honors is a pupil in Mr. C. M.
Blue's school.

GRADE PUPILS
ENJOY PICNIC

Misses Helen Teeters and Golda
Baughn took their 5th and 6th
grade pupils of Central to Willis Park, Friday for a most delightful picnic, as a wind up to school work.

CYCLES CRASH

A motorcycle and bicycle came together at the intersection of Fayette and Court streets, Saturday, throwing both riders but not seriously injuring either.

MAKES SUCCESS
WRITING MOVIES

Heading the list of a number of persons featured in a write-up by Dale Carnegie, in the June issue of the American Magazine, is the name of Hugh C. Weir, formerly of this city, now Chief Scenario Inspector of the Universal Film Company, with residence in New York City.

The write-up under the head of "Money Made in Writing for the Movies," tells how several of the successful scenario writers started in the game, and concerning Weir,
says:

Among the books listed as most
in demand at the New York Public Library is one on writing the photoplay. A movie fan in Oregon, trying to obtain a copy of this book
from his local library, found that reservations were placed for it six months in advance.

With a moving picture director commanding a larger income than Woodrow Wilson, with movie actresses drawing life insurance presidents' salaries, it isn't singular that thousands of writers should be striving for filmland's easy money. There are far more aspirants for screen
than for stage fame—a fortune.
Many of the large film companies receive an average of one hundred and fifty unsolicited scripts a day.
The average price per reel to unknown authors is about twenty-five dollars, but those photoplaywriters

who have established themselves are fairly rolling in money.

A Big Winner in the Game.

If the films that have been used for Hugh C. Weir's melodramas were tied together they would reach around Manhattan Island and then shoot over to Philadelphia. Speaking of shooting, one actor says he would rather charge a trench than put over some of the realistic punches for which Weir's plays often call; a dozen actors have been injured and two killed—one falling from an aeroplane, another from a railroad bridge—in producing this author's stories.

Last September Weir wrote two five-reel scenarios, "The Gilded Serfs"
and "The Purchase Price," in one week, and received for each of them
one thousand dollars. But behind this easy money are the uneasy days
when the postman used to swing
through the front gate burdened with Weir's travel-weary scenarios
and drop them on the porch.

One bright morning in November 1914, Weir in his Ohio home decided that he must make closer connections with some motion picture manufacturer. That afternoon he shot a special delivery letter to Carl Laemmle, president of the Universal Company. Laemmle framed
it. Weir's letter started with:

Dear Mr. Laemmle: When you finish reading this letter

you will wire me one hundred dollars.

Weir didn't enclose anything sell; he told of his experience—after a bad start he had managed to sell about fifty scenarios—and suggested that one hundred dollars would bring him to New York to talk business as a staff writer for the Universal.

A year later his income was twenty thousand dollars.

This creator of melodramas believes screen plays can be written best by collaboration, so during the last few months he and Reginald Kaufman, author of "The House of Bondage," have daily and nightly gathered in certain room on Tenth Street. These authors divide their characters: Weir says what he will do in a given situation and R. W. K.
describes how his will react to it.
Each predicts how his people will act when they clash, and both men
try to make action grow out of character—action that is natural, logical and irresistible.

In Social Circles

The Staunton W. C. T. U. held a
"Mothers' and Purity" meeting at the home of Mrs. Grace Hoskins, Friday afternoon, with a good attendance.

Mrs. Clara Stewart opened with devotionals, after which Dorothy Hoskins gave a touching recitation,
"Mother."

Mrs. Ralph Allen and Mrs. Chas.
Ford played a pretty piano duet;
Mrs. Mary Tway gave a select reading, "Open Letters to Mothers and Teachers." Mrs. Inez England gave a vocal solo; Mrs. Sudlow a reading,
"Pure Women," the program closing with a piano duet by Mesdames Allen and Ford.

Dainty refreshments were served.

A family dinner of more than ordinary pleasure was enjoyed at the Brownell homestead Saturday at high noon when the two sons, Messrs
H. B. and C. H. Brownell and their families and the daughter, Miss Lucy, celebrated the eighty-first birthday of their mother, Mrs. Ruth Brownell.

The table was laid with twenty covers all children and grandchildren except Dr. Elizabeth Shrieves and Miss Emma Shrieves, who came up from Wilmington for the occasion.

The home and table was fragrant with spring bloom all the flowers
gathered from the Brownell gardens.
Mrs. Brownell recently returned from a winter's stay in California
in remarkable health and activity and is defying the years with a vitality which leads to the hope of her family and also a host of friends,
that many more birthdays may be enjoyed in a delightful family reunion akin to the one of Saturday.

A marriage of interest to a wide family connection and many friends took place shortly after high noon Saturday when Miss Hanna E. Mark daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Mark, of Jasper Mills, and Mr. Gilbert M. Freshour, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Freshour, of the Prairie pike, plighted their troth at the Presbyterian manse, Rev. Wm.
Boynton Gage officiating.

The bride is a very charming girl
and both she and the bridegroom,
a popular young Fayette county boy have good wishes galore extended to them.

The bride was wearing a smart tailored suit of blue, with white hat.
Mr. and Mrs. Freshour leave Monday for their future home in Dayton, where Mr. Freshour is foreman in one of the big munitions plants.

Miss Helen Long, the attractive

COMMENCEMENT AT GOOD HOPE

A profusion of flowers, beautiful music and all the adjuncts of a successful commencement attended the 1916 commencement of the Good Hope high school at Wayne Hall,
Friday night.

The stage was elaborately decorated in the class colors, green and white, forming an effective background for the two attractive young graduates, Ruth Junk and Ethel Arnold. Supt. T. H. Everhart presided.

Both graduates delivered orations
of excellent subject matter, Miss Junk's oration on "The Wizard of Menlo Park" was splendidly presented and Miss Arnold treated ably of "Womanhood of the Twentieth Century."

Ex-President A. J. Brown, of Wilmington College delivered the class
address, after which Principal C. S.
States, of the High School, presented the diplomas with a forceful little speech.

The fine music added great attraction to the program and included contralto solos by Mrs. Mary Golds-bury Burgett, Violin solos by Mr.
James Kneisley and piano solo and accompaniments by Mrs. Constance Ballard Claggen.

CAPTURE 1,200 PRISONERS

Austrian Bombardment Forces Italians From First Line Trenches In
the Region of Trent—French Losses
In Verdun Sector Reported Heavy.
Turks and Russians Engaged in the Caucasus—Review of Operations.

London, May 20.—Under the incessant pounding of the Austrian heavy artillery, the Italian forces have been compelled to withdraw from portions of their lines in the region of Trent, which had been bombarded for three days. An official communication from Rome admits the evacuation of the Zegnartia position in the Lagarina valley and the upper Astico
from Monte Maggio to Sagliodaspio.
The Italians, however, have occupied further Austrian positions in the Adamello zone, capturing prisoners, material and provisions.

The Russian advance in the Caucasus theater of war is meeting with more active opposition from the Turkish forces. Constantinople claims that attacks by Russians in the regions of Bitlis and Baiburt were repulsed.

The Germans, according to a Berlin dispatch, made a further advance
west of the Meuse, occupying French positions on both sides of the Haucourt-Eenes road, between Hill 304
and the Avocourt wood. The trenches taken extend to the southern corner of the Canard wood. In the course of the advance 1,296 prisoners, including nine officers, were taken.

The French version reads: "Using large forces of men from two new divisions recently brought up to the Verdun front, the Germans made extremely violent attacks on the front
between the Bois d'Avocourt and Hill 304. The attacking troops were thrown back on both flanks, but succeeded in the center, on the Hautcourt-Eenes road, in capturing a small works to the south of Hill 287."

The Overseas News Agency issued a statement saying that the French are suffering heavy losses at Verdun,
in spite of their entrenchments, because they have concentrated an enormous number of troops within a comparatively small space. The German artillery has wrought appalling destruction, one correspondent says,
not only among the troops on the firing line, but among the reserves, who are closely grouped in territory under effective range of the German guns.

VICTIM'S FATHER GIVES VERSION

Denies Story That Miss Lambert Killed Herself.

Chicago, May 20.—Frank Lambert, father of Marion Lambert, denied dramatically in Judge Donnelly's courtroom in Waukegan that his daughter had committed suicide. It was the gardener's first declaration of his convictions. The stories which have been printed that his daughter took the poison that caused her death because she was in trouble and because she had been thrown over by Will Orpet, the student, now charged with her murder, had angered the bereaved gardener. "I can't keep away from the court," he said. "Our side will prove Orpet's guilt and it will prove that he framed an alibi to conceal it. All the stories about her being inspired to take poison because of a chemistry lesson are wrong."

What will prove a jolt to the state in the prosecution of Orpet developed when Charles Hassinger, outside of court, repudiated a statement previously made to the prosecuting attorney that he had sold Orpet an empty
two ounce vial the day before Miss Lambert was found dead in Helm's woods. Hassinger, a young druggist in Madison, Wis., where Orpet attended the university, was relied upon by the state to prove that he had sold this empty vial to the defendant.

ROW OVER SEIZED CATTLE

Ill Feeling Develops at Douglas, Arizona.

FUNSTON FEARS A CLASH

Inform War Department, However,
That Force of Regulars at the Scene Can Cope With Any Trouble.
Conference of American Consuls On Border Awaited With Interest.
Case of Sergeant Furman.

Washington, May 20.—Although officials of the state department are continuing to insist that no special significance is to be attached to the approaching conference of the American consuls on the border, the report which it will evolve of conditions in northern Mexico is being awaited with interest.

Declaring he was able to handle
the situation should it grow serious, Major General Frederick Funston informed the war department that ill-feeling has developed between Americans and Mexicans at Douglas, Ariz., resulting from action local authorities
have taken in seizing cattle illegally imported across the line from the Mexican side.

General Funston expressed apprehension that a clash might result, but stated that the force of regulars which were at Douglas could cope with any further trouble.

A report was received from Major General Funston concerning the killing of Sergeant Harry Furman of the machine gun company, Twenty-third infantry, across the border, near El Paso. The report stated that Furman had gone into the strip of Mexican territory lying on this side of the Rio Grande and that his dead body had been found in the spot where it had fallen from his horse, General Gavira,
the Mexican commander of Juarez,
the report states, had endeavored in every way possible to co-operate with the American officers in the investigation. The inquiry showed that the body had not been moved and that two chambers of Furman's revolver were empty. The soldier's horse and accoutrements, Funston states, were returned.

State department officials are inclined to doubt reports to the effect that Carranza is preparing to send to the United States an ultimatum demanding the immediate withdrawal of the American forces from Mexico.
It was declared at the department
that reports received from Special Agent James Lynn Rodgers at Mexico
City indicate a favorable attitude on Carranza's part.

MORE OF IT

(By American Press)

El Paso, Tex., May 20.—Another raid over the main line into Texas
and threatened trouble of a similar nature in the future have halted the expedition of American forces into Mexico south of the "Big Bend" country of Texas.

Placido Villanueva, a Villa bandit,
has joined forces with Jose Chavez, another bandit leader, and they are stealing horses on both sides of the river. The first theft was made from the ranch of Buck Poole, where they took ten head of horses, near Presidio, Tex.

News reached here that they also raided the ranch of Felipe Valdez, sixty miles from Presidio, taking a number of horses and supplies. It is generally thought they are getting new mounts for the purpose of committing raids into Texas towns. This same band came from the vicinity of Lajutas, and it is said some of the members were in the band which raided Glenn Springs. The total force is from 300 to 500 men.

As a result of these new raids, pursuit of the Mexican bandits who raided Glenn Springs two weeks ago is to be given up and the American government for the present will content itself with a thorough policing of the American country in the "Big Bend." In addition to the cavalry now pursuing the bandits in Mexico another regiment is to be sent there from General Pershing's command, now in western Chihuahua.

YOU CAN ALMOST TALK TO HER
—THIS 3400 r. p. m. CHALMERS

They're buying motor cars today as they're hiring men—on ability.

Blue eyes, brown hair, a rugged jaw, mean something
—but not so much as they used to.

They're seeking ability. And that is not always measured in stature, weight and reach.

Likewise in a car. They look her over, learn her wheelbase, note the tire sizes, ask the bore and stroke of the engine and then—

They make her perform.

They make her hit the trail, they roll her up the stiffest hill. They let her out on the straightaway, and they make her accelerate at slow speeds.

It's the only way to judge a car. And we're particularly glad, because we have in the 3400 r.p.m. Chalmers
a car that answers every human wish.

You can almost talk to this animal. You can lead her anywhere. We know of no one who has ever called on her for too much, nor asked of her anything she couldn't deliver.

She's like a young ballplayer who keeps driving 'em
over the right-field fence.

She's there. And the reason is her magnificent 3400
r. p. m. engine. When history in our business is written, 3400 r. p. m. will occupy a thick chapter.

Simply because at the lowest speeds she saves her energy, turns up only 500 r. p. m. at 10 miles an hour,
and 1000 r. p. m. at 20 miles an hour.

Thus using only 18 per cent of her power at such speeds and saving 62 to 80 per cent for winding, hilly roads, bad turns, and on occasions when a little extra power gives you possession of the road.

One ride of five miles behind the wheel and you'll own it.

Ask your dealer about Chalmers service inspection
coupons, negotiable at all Chalmers dealers everywhere.

SEVEN BISHOPS FINALLY CHOSEN

Record Is Made By the General Conference.

Saratoga, N. Y., May 20.—The Methodist general conference broke all records for the election of bishops,
the seventh and last member of the episcopacy having been chosen late last night. With the election on the seventeenth ballot of Dr. Franklin Hamilton, chancellor of the American university at Washington, D. C., the number to be chosen by this conference was completed. Dr. Hamilton secured 514 votes.

Dr. Matt Hughes of Pasadena, Cal., a brother of Bishop Edwin H. Hughes of San Francisco, was elected on the twelfth ballot, with 549 votes. Drs.
William Oldham of New York and Charles Baird Mitchell of Chicago
were both chosen on the fifteenth, with 570 and 569, respectively. Thursday night Dr. Herbert Welch, president of Ohio Wesleyan university;
Dr. Thomas Nicholson of New York,
secretary of the board of education,
and Dr. Adna W. Leonard of Seattle,
Wash., were elected.

During the intervals between balloting the conference adopted a report recognizing the deaconess board
as an authorized department of church activities and combining two previously existing branches of this work.

CARELESSNESS

(By American Press)

Columbus, May 20.—According to an official report of state inspectors to George H. Hamilton, chief inspector of workshops and factories, "carelessness and negligence" of Franklin Brothers, contractors, caused the collapse of the building at Akron, in which the Crystal restaurant was located, and in which nine persons lost their lives Monday night. "We find that orders limiting blasting operations to ten feet of adjacent buildings were disregarded and that shots were placed and fired, one within six feet and one within five and one-half feet from the building line,"
the report says.

The contractors were making an excavation adjacent to the walls of the building which collapsed. The blasts of dynamite used by the contractors weakened the foundation of the building, say the inspectors. The theory that structural weaknesses of the building caused the disaster is scouted by the report.

The GIRL and the GAME

A Story of Mountain Railroad Life
By FRANK H. SPEARMAN

AUTHOR OF "WHISPERING SMITH," "THE MOUNTAIN DIVIDE," "STRATEGY OF GREAT RAILROADS," ETC.

NOVELIZED FROM THE MOVING PICTURE PLAY OF THE SAME NAME. PRODUCED BY THE SIGNAL FILM CORPORATION. COPYRIGHT, 1915, BY FRANK H. SPEARMAN.

SYNOPSIS.

Little Helen Holmes, daughter of General Holmes, railroad man, is rescued from imminent danger on a scenic road by George Storm, a newsboy. Grown to young womanhood, Helen saves Storm, now a fireman, her father, and his friends. Amos Rhinelander, financier, and Robert Seagru, promoter, from a threatened collision. Safebreakers employed by Seagru steal General Holmes' survey plans from the out of line for the Tidewater, fatally wound the general and escape. Her father's estate badly involved by his death, Helen goes to work on the Tidewater. Helen recovers the survey plans from Seagru, and though they are taken from her, finds an accidentally made proof of the survey blueprint. Storm is employed by Rhinelander. Spike, befriended by Helen, in his turn saves her and the right-of-way contracts when Seagru kidnaps her. Helen and Storm win for Rhinelander a race against Seagru for right-of-way. Helen, Storm and Rhinelander rescue Spike from Seagru's men. Spike steals records to protect Rhinelander, and Storm and Helen save Spike from death in the burning courthouse. Vein in Superstition mine pinches out. Seagru sells it and sells it to Rhinelander. The mine is relocated. Rhinelander gives Helen and George each one-third of the Superstition mine stock. Seagru's scheme to prevent payment for the mine is spoiled. Helen, restored to home and social position, saves her departing guests from a threatened collision by a wild ride.

And Storm's trifling act of hospitality was to prove his salvation and Seagru's undoing. Having seen that the punch bowl was nearly empty he excused himself and stepped into the next room to summon a maid to refill it. The door of this room—a breakfast room—opening on the garden, stood, for the evening, ajar. The maid, reaching up on the sideboard for a napkin, when Storm spoke to her, let it fall from her hand as she turned. The white square of linen, partly unfolded, fluttered to the ground.

Where she stood, the maid could not be seen from Ward's hiding place in the garden. Only the figure of Storm beside her was visible and the highwayman mistook his figure for Seagru's. When the napkin fluttered to the floor, Ward, mistaking it for the handkerchief, watched intently the two silhouetted figures in the conservatory.

Seagru, at Helen's side, rose to his feet. Two shots rang through the night air. Seagru, stricken, clutched his heart. With a ghastly expression he looked at Helen. And as she screamed, he clutched at his heart again and fell headlong to the floor. Helen's frantic cries brought a crowd to the conservatory doors. Storm, nearest at hand, held back the others and entered the room first. He turned, lifted Seagru from the floor and asked for a doctor. Helen, half hysterical, told where the shots had come and Storm, followed by her, ran out into the garden.

The murderers had made good their escape. Hurrying to where their machine was hidden, they jumped into it and started at breakneck speed for Oceanside. It was Spike's keen ear that detected the faint hum of their motor. "They're making their getaway in a car," he cried. "If we are to get them, we've got to work quick."

Commandeering the first car parked in the driveway and accompanied by Helen and Storm, Spike drove rapidly down the highway after the fleeing taxicab. No lights were visible on it, but some moonlight made it possible to follow the murderers accurately.

Below the bridge at Signal, the highway, turning sharply, crossed the railroad. It is a bell crossing and the signals were ringing for the Oceanside express when Ward and Adams, looking behind at the headlights of Spike's car, saw they were hotly pursued. They opened fire with their revolvers on the pursuing car, but Helen, Storm and Spike, keeping under cover as best they could, did not slacken speed. The criminals thus pressed, saw there was a chance to put the railroad crossing between them and their pursuers. The express was close upon them, but desperate men cannot be choosers. Ward took a chance. Crowding his machine to the limit, he tried for the crossing ahead of the train. The engineer seeing a collision unavoidable, checked his train heavily. It was too late. The engine was almost on the taxicab and the next instant the pilot, striking it squarely in the middle, threw the heavy limousine fifty feet in the air. When Helen, Storm and Spike reached the spot, the engineer was backing down to investigate the catastrophe.

Lanterns and searchlights were brought into play where the moon left the landscape in shadow. Adams' body was found in a borrow pit. The shock had killed him. Ward, flung against a tree, lay at the foot of it, mutilated beyond recognition.

In Helen's conservatory, a doctor bent over Seagru, but the wretched victim of his own criminal intent lay quite dead.

The sun rose happily after the events of that tragic night. It rose nowhere on two people more grateful for their escape from assassination than Helen and Storm. Within the following week the guests of that night, had they been gifted with vision, might have seen Spike seated, book in hand, in the garden, reading an account of a marriage ceremony. In it, surrounded by her friends and given away by her foster uncle, Amos Rhinelander, Helen had become the wife of George Storm.

Sentences Himself to Jail.

Visalia, Cal.—Ernest Stevenson, a Visalia laborer, sentenced himself to a year in the county jail in Judge Knox's court after pleading guilty to a charge of drunkenness. The verdict was set aside by the judge as excessive. In passing sentence on himself after the judge had asked him to do so Stevenson said treatment in hospital did no good and perhaps he could "sober up right" in a year.

Clock 110 Years Old.

Helena, Mo.—Mrs. Clarissa Furgeson of this place has a clock which she says is 110 years old. The clock was first purchased by a Mrs. Tunnison of Greenville, Pa., and after it had been in the Tunnison family sixty-two years Mrs. Furgeson bought it in 1868. It has been in Mrs. Furgeson's possession forty-eight years. It is still running and keeps good time.

TO FAVOR A TARIFF "BOARD"

Democratic Platform to Have Four Tariff Planks.

STATEMENT OF LEADERS

Protection For Dyestuff Industry and Protection of American Firms Against Dumping and Unfair Foreign Competition to Be Included in the Platform to Be Adopted by the National Convention.

Washington, May 20.—The Democratic platform to be adopted in St. Louis will include four protective tariff planks, according to a prominent member of the ways and means committee of the house, who will probably be a member of the resolutions committee at the convention.

They will be as follows: A plank favoring a tariff commission; a plank favoring protection for the dyestuffs industry; a plank favoring protection of American firms against foreign dumping, and a plank providing heavy penalties for foreign concerns engaged in unfair competition in the United States.

In addition, although it is not directly related to the new tariff, the administration will include in the St. Louis platform a plank favoring combinations of American exporters, to win foreign trade in competition with the existing cartels and combinations of European countries.

Following a conference between Democratic leaders and the president this week, it was decided to hasten work on the revenue and tariff program, so as to get it before the house by the last of next week.

A conference between the ranking Democratic members of the house ways and means committee and the senate finance committee will be held in the office of Senator Simmons of North Carolina, chairman of the latter, on Monday. At this conference it is expected the revenue-tariff measure will be whipped into shape satisfactory to the Democrats of both houses.

The revenue measure will be a double-barreled one. In addition to providing for the acquisition of approximately $200,000,000 additional revenue, it will provide for the creation of a tariff commission and will contain legislation bearing on dumping, dyestuffs and unfair competition of foreign competitors.

MINISTER QUILTS CHURCH BECAUSE MEMBERS SMOKE

He Did Not Want Tobacco Used at Informal Meetings of a Brotherhood. Members Bitterly Opposed Him.

Jefferson City, Mo.—As the result of a controversy with the members of the local Presbyterian brotherhood over the question of whether there should be smoking at the informal meetings of that body, Rev. J. A. Cowling, pastor of the Presbyterian church of Jefferson City, resigned.

Mr. Cowling was opposed to the use of tobacco by members of the brotherhood at their meetings and on one occasion openly suggested that smoking be not permitted. The members of the brotherhood, by common consent, went on with the smoking at the meetings. First one and then another member would bring along a box of cigars.

The smoking controversy went on for several weeks, and gradually the relations between pastor and brotherhood became more strained, with the result that Mr. Cowling tendered his resignation and the congregation voted to accept it.

GIRLS WITH FLOWER NAMES.

Arrange a Club For the Study of Wild Plants.

Mill Valley, Cal.—Out of the deep tangled wildwood of this hamlet, nestling at the base of Mount Tamalpais, has come a school children's club, unique at least in the nomenclature of its governing officers.

The club has been organized for the study of wild flowers, which are now a gay pattern of many colors over the sloping hills of the countryside. The children, mostly girls, met and elected officers, as follows: President, Charlotte Rose; vice president, Margaret Leaf; secretary, Doris Plant; treasurer, Mary Moss; Directors, Violet White and Fern Murphy.

They will begin at once their studies, which are to be prosecuted vigorously in all of their out of school hours.

No blooms of rarest ray serene will be permitted to bud and blush unseen in the shady dells of Tamalpais.

LAW SURELY GIVES A PUZZLE TO SOLVE

Owner of Bees Must Know Name of Every One Before He Can Swear Out a Warrant.

Birmingham, Ala.—Becoming involved in a dispute over a trivial matter, two citizens of Montgomery county struck a snag in the law when a swarm of bees owned by one migrated to the home of the other. This renewed the trouble, and W. C. Frizzle, bailiff of the city court, was appealed to.

"I want my bees," said the original owner. "They have gone to that fellow's home."

Frizzle began an investigation to ascertain whether he had authority to return the bees to the rightful owner. After consulting many lawbooks this was his conclusion, as expressed in his own words:

"I find that before you can obtain your bees you must have them arrested in the regular way. And before they can be arrested you must swear out an individual warrant against every bee in the swarm. I also find that before you can swear out an individual warrant against every bee you must know the name of each one."

The rightful owner said he was willing to give his neighbor a warrant deed to one swarm of bees, but he did not know the name of each one in the swarm. So the bees are still in their new home.

CHILD SAVES HOME.

Little Boy Fights Fire and Climbs on Chair to Telephone For Help.

Lead, S. D.—Nerve and pluck exhibited by the five-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Mitchell saved both himself and the family home from destruction by fire, although the child was nearly overcome when the firemen rescued him.

The little fellow had been left alone with a playmate while his parents were out, and they commenced to play with matches. Soon the bed was afire, and the flames spread.

The other boy ran out, but the Mitchell child fought the flames with small pails of water, in the meantime climbing on a chair to reach the telephone, by which he notified the fire department. Chemicals quickly extinguished the blaze.

The essence of knowledge is, having it, to apply it; not having it, to confess your ignorance.—Confucius.

Only evil grows of itself. For goodness we want effort and courage.

ANOTHER SCALP IS TAKEN BY CENTRAL

In the interscholastic base ball league, the Central team added another scalp to the growing list at their belt, shutting Sunnyside out in a five inning game, and scoring four runs, one of the runs was made in the first and the other three in the last.

The batteries were Central, Melvin and O'Brien; Sunnyside, Maddox and Dunn.

Central made four hits and four errors, while Sunnyside managed to get one hit and also made a bunch of errors.

The line-ups:

Sunnyside—Maddox p.; Dunn c.; Thompson 1b.; Bondurant 2nd.; Rodgers 3rd.; Dorn ss.; English lf.; "Peanut" cf.; Murphy rf.

Central—Melvin p.; O'Brien c.; Bennett 1b.; Weyer 2nd.; Reif 3b.; Luffee ss.; Weaver lf.; McLean cf.; Keichert rf.

The next game will be Tuesday evening when the Cherry Hill and Sunnyside teams lock horns.

Present standing—Central 4 won, 2 lost; Cherry Hill 3 won, 2 lost; Sunnyside 1 won and four lost.

SILU VALUABLE

Practical dairymen who are silo users say that the silo on the farm means a saving of from 8 to 10 cents a pound in the cost of producing butter fat. Beef feeders say that ensilage saves from $1 to $1.50 per hundred pounds in producing beef. Feeding experiments bear out these statements. On this basis ensilage under normal conditions is worth $4 per ton. With an increase of 50 percent in feed prices it is worth $6 per ton. Reports from farmers over the state show an average cost of $2.75 a ton for corn ensilage, including all factors incident to its production. The inadvisability of doing without a silo seems to be more important than the question of whether to build one.

DAVID DEFEATS GIANT GOLIATH

Christians, Who Had Not Won Single Game, Win Over Presbyterians Who Had Never Tasted the Dregs of Defeat.

The losing streak of the Christian base ball team right-about-faced Friday evening, and as a result the Presbyterians fell prey to the new turn of luck, and went down to defeat in a game of more than ordinary interest. The score was 4 to 3, favoring the Christians.

It was the first game the Presbyterian team had lost and the first game the Christians had won in the Sunday School Base Ball League series, and the further work of these two teams will be watched with particular interest.

McAllister hurled the sphere for the Christians and Lanum did some good work for the Presbyterians in the same capacity. McAllister struck out three and Lanum went him three better better. Base on balls off McAllister, 2; hit by pitcher, Lanum 2. The Christians made four hits and two errors, and the Presbyterians three hits and three errors. Groover, Whitened and F. Tillet made two-base hits. Evans and Pine umpired. Groover, the Presbyterian's third sacker, suffered a sprained ankle while after a fly.

The lineups were as follows:

Christians — F. Tillet, ss; Calender, c; G. Tillet, 3b; R. Browning cf; Hatfield rf; McAllister p; Flint 2b; J. Browning 1b; Snider lf.

Presbyterians — R. Judy cf; S. Judy, c; Grover and Hall 3b; Sheets 2b; Whitened ss; Wyman rf; Gregg lf; Baughn 1b; Lanum p.

Schedule for next week—Monday evening, Y. M. C. A. vs. Presbyterians; Tuesday, Christians vs. Methodists; Thursday, Presbyterians vs. Methodists; Friday, Christians vs. Y. M. C. A.

EXTENSION SCHOOLS CAN BE SECURED

Extension or movable agricultural schools sent out by the Ohio State University at Columbus are available to the granges or farmer's clubs of the county. Organizations desiring to conduct a school for a week on the latest and best ideas of farming should send their applications to the Agricultural College Extension Service, Ohio State University, Columbus. The schools are distributed over the state, but an application to be considered must be made at an early date. Instructors from the College of Agriculture are sent with each school.

WATCHMAN APPEARS IN BRAND NEW DRESS

The Circleville Democrat and Watchman made its appearance this week under the management of Editor J. W. Johnson, formerly of Waverly, and is a radical change from the old Democrat and Watchman of years gone by.

The style of make up is entirely different from the old "blanket sheet" which had been issued weekly for the past many years.

Introducing himself Editor Johnson does so by saying: A type of the Middle West, a Buckeye by birth, of the lineage of Virginia and a Democrat by Constitutional Predilection. In his coming, to Pick-away, it remains to be disclosed whether the people have Won or Lost."

A two-column cut of the late Hon. A. R. Van Cleef, former owner of the publication, is carried in the first edition under the new owner.

ADKINS IS FOUND GUILTY OF MURDER

Friday afternoon the jury in the case of Ohio against Joshua Adkins, charged with the murder of Thomas Pierce, a few miles north of Danville in Madison county, returned a verdict of guilty of murder in the second degree.

The man apparently killed Pierce without cause, the crime being committed on the evening of November 11th, 1915.

To make home-made fly paper, mix together equal parts by measure of resin and castor oil. Stir over hot water until mixed then, while still a little warm, spread it on any good strong paper that is not too porous; foolscap is good.

"GOPHER" ESCAPES FROM THE HOSPITAL

"Gopher" Smith who was sent to the State Hospital at Columbus a couple of months ago, has escaped.

As predicted by the local authorities the young man awaited a favorable opportunity and then took to his heels.

Smith was out in the field with other inmates, Friday afternoon, and a new guard had charge of him. The new guard evidently had not heard of Smith's sprinting proclivities, and it was not long until Smith had made a break for freedom, easily outdistancing the guard and others who joined in the chase and making his escape, headed toward Washington at break-neck speed.

It was figured that a few hours' time would see him back in this city and Sheriff Jones was immediately notified to be on the lookout for the runaway.

SLEUTHS AFTER THE CLARKSVILLE YEGGS

Burns detectives and sleuths from the postoffice department are on the trail of the yeggs who last week flew the outer doors of the Clarksville Farmers National Bank, and it is understood have some good clews.

The loot obtained by the yeggs consisted of $37 in small change, mostly pennies; $75 worth of revenue stamps and $724.50 worth of postage stamps, together with $2000 in bonds which belonged to a customer of the bank.

The bank lost only in damage done to the outer doors of the safe, the stamps and bonds being handled at the risk of the postmaster of Clarksville and owner of the hounds.

Sleuths have covered a wide territory in looking for clews that might lead to the arrest of the yeggs and are said to have been in this city making inquiry.

CIRCLEVILLE MAY GET SLICE OF PORK

Congressman Edwin D. Ricketts has introduced a bill in congress for a -100,000 postoffice building for Circleville.

With the war that is being waged on large appropriations, for comparatively small cities, the appropriation, if allowed, probably will be for $60,000, as in a number of instances during the past year or two.

BANANAS AS FOOD.

The Best Way to Serve Them Is Baked When Full Ripe.

Children under three years of age do not chew their food thoroughly; they bolt it. For this reason they should not have bananas to eat uncooked. Bananas are nutritious, but they are an indigestible food unless they are well masticated. They are more easily digested when cooked than when eaten raw.

The most digestible form of cooked banana is the baked one. This is prepared first by washing the fruit, then cutting a small piece from each end of the bananas (as when preparing a sweet potato for baking). Place the bananas to be baked on a tin plate or similar dish in a hot oven. When they feel tender after pricking with a fork they are well baked. Dark brown or brown stained bananas (not the bright yellow ones) are best for eating, either raw or baked.

After the fruit is baked it is placed on a platter and served as a meat. It is not, however, turned out of the skin. When ready to eat it split the skin and banana lengthwise of the fruit, season it with salt, pepper and a little butter.

In warm weather baked bananas may be used to take the place of meat at a meal.—Philadelphia Record.

Wonderful!

"Just think of it! A whole splendid dinner—soup, fish, entree, joint with two vegetables, dessert and cheese—for a dime!"

"Wonderful! Where can you get such a dinner at such a price?"

"Nowhere; but just think of it!"—Exchange.

SUFFRAGE PARADE DRESS

Get your marching clothes on!

It is the new slogan of the National American Woman Suffrage association. The marching clothes in question will be worn at the Chicago suffrage parade during the Republican convention and will consist of white skirts and blouses and the new "parade hats," which have just made their appearance. "Guaranteed becoming" is this white sailor with its band of suffrage yellow, which was selected after many styles, shapes, sizes, and shades were considered by the committee who sat on the weighty matter.

TO AVOID CLASH OF TROOPS

Commander of Carranza Forces Would Not Enter Mexican Towns Until Americans Have Withdrawn

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Chihuahua City, Mexico, May 20.

—General Jacinto Trevino, in supreme command of Carranza troops disposition to wipe out bandits of Chihuahua and Coahuila, today announced upon his arrival here that any possibility of friction between the American and de facto forces would be prevented by orders against his forces entering any towns or sections until American troops had evacuated.

THE MODERN TORPEDO.

How It Travels and Its Effect Upon Striking a Vessel.

The present day torpedo is a very different sort of weapon from that used half a century ago. It is shaped something like a cigar and is about twenty-three feet long and twenty-one inches in diameter. It weighs considerably more than a ton, and its construction costs from $5,000 to double that sum.

It is made to travel in a certain direction in a fixed time and to explode when it strikes some solid object, such as a ship's bottom. A torpedo of the largest and most modern type will tear a gaping hole in the stanchest ship ever built. The nose or "explosive head" of a torpedo contains the deadly charge of high explosives, nitroglycerin and gun cotton being oftenest used.

When the torpedo strikes its target a tremendous detonation follows instantly, driving in both the outer and inner "skins" of a vessel. The hole it makes in a ship's bottom varies in size, but is seldom less than ten by thirty feet. The torpedo travels toward its victim at the rate, roughly, of about a thousand yards a minute. The distance and rate of speed have to be calculated to a nicety before the torpedo is discharged. It is kept to its destined course by perpendicular rudders in its tail.

The modern "dirigible" torpedo was first used in a naval war during the Chilean revolution of a quarter of a century ago.—New York World.

STANFORTH & KIDNER, : Proprietors

PASSED HIM ALONG.

Sothern Thinks He Was the Most Dandied Baby in America.

I have been nursed on more knees than any other baby in America. While the men and women of my father generation were yet alive I would constantly meet elderly people, male and female, who would exclaim, "Why, I nursed you on my knee when you were a baby." Old Coudock, Mrs. Walcott, Joe Jefferson, Stoddard, William Warren, Mrs. Vincent—I could name a thousand in public and private life whose knees had accommodated me.

From knee to knee I would seem to have hopped as birds from bough to bough. I must have reposed upon as many bosoms as did Queen Elizabeth on four post beds. Whether I was nursed thus because I was either beautiful or good or because the last good Samaritan desired to hand me on rapidly to the next, history saith not.

Perchance my mother, in her busy life at that time, had constantly to say to the bystanders, "Here—hold the baby!" while she ran to take up her cue at rehearsal. The infant would have to be controlled by an alibi band, while "Ride a cockhorse" and "Pat-a-cake, baker's man," may have been sung in my ear by many an unwilling nurse.—From "My Remembrances," by Edward H. Sothern, in Scribner's Magazine.

AUDIENCES ARE FICKLE.

It Doesn't Take Much to Spoil a Fine Scene or a Speech.

One of my favorite fancies is of an audience composed of the elect of the ages, with Socrates, Homer, Sophocles, Demosthenes, Praxiteles, Cicero, Horace, Dante, Moliere, Milton, Goethe, Washington Irving, Ben Jonson, Coleridge, Thackeray and Bernard Shaw in the front row and back of them an assemblage of personages of like degrees
